Helping students plan
for postsecondary?

ONTransfer.ca can help navigate the way.

What if a student...

- + doesn't get into the school or program they want?
- + realizes a school or program isn't a good fit?
- + wants to go to both college and university?

Ontario's postsecondary transfer and pathway system allows students to transfer between schools, programs, and courses more easily.

Unfortunately, many students aren't aware of their transfer and pathway options.

ONTransfer.ca provides guidance counsellors with the tools to help students:

- Understand how transfer and pathways work
- Navigate the transfer system and identify their options
- Connect with transfer experts to ask questions and find out more

Helping your students understand their transfer and pathway options can:

- Ease their postsecondary concerns.
- Empower them to make informed choices.
- Make them feel confident in their decisions.
- Help them reach their academic and career goals.

It's their decision but you can help show them the way.

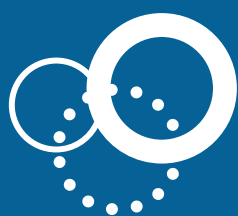

How do transfer and pathways benefit students?

65,000+
transfer students in any given year in Ontario.

Transfer and pathways allow students to:

- Access alternate entry points into a program or school they were not initially accepted to.
- Change programs or switch schools without having to repeat credits.
- Combine certificates, diplomas, and degrees.
